

THE CLARION.

Official Journal of the City of Jackson

LOCAL AND OTHER NOTES.

—Get ready for the State Fair!

—Hon. H. M. Street, of Meridian, gave us a passing call Monday.

—Reports of Commencement exercises have the floor this morning.

—Miss Jennie Morancy is enjoying the Commencement at Oxford this week.

—Commencement exercises at St. Margaret's Hall (Mrs. Ware's) to-night.

—The thermometer stood at 95 and 96 degrees in the shade, Thursday and Friday.

—Gov. Lowry is at Oxford this week in attendance on University Commencement exercises.

—Capt. W. M. McNulty, the efficient and popular Sheriff of Pike county, was in our city yesterday.

—The Sheriff of Lauderdale, Col. R. L. Henderson and his charming wife, were in the city Monday.

—Col. and Mrs. W. L. Nugent of this city, are sojourning at Barnes Hotel, on the Mississippi Gulfshore.

—A Principal is wanted for the newly erected Academy at Moss Point. See advertisement in another column.

—Misses Maud Jones and Ida Bracey, both of Terry, have been the guests of Miss Mai Bird Hiltzheim for the past week.

—A State Fair next fall is the next thing on the docket. The buildings will soon be erected and programme published.

—Everybody can make 4th of July trips at one-half fare on the Illinois Central Railroad. See notice in another column.

—Four lovely ladies were received into the Methodist church last Sabbath, after an impressive discourse by Rev. Dr. Galloway.

—Capt. S. H. Pariset gave us a call last week. He is known far and wide as one of the most successful steamboat men in the South.

—Grand Secretary J. L. Power was at Aberdeen yesterday, participating in the anniversary celebration by Aberdeen Lodge, No. 32.

—Hon. Henry C. Myers, Secretary of State, has temporary quarters in the Senate Chamber, pending repairs to office on lower floor.

—Miss Ada Green, has left Jackson for a visit to Miss Annie Walter, of Holly Springs, and thence to summer resorts in the north.

—It "sounded" strange to hear no church bells ringing Sunday night. The threatening aspect of the weather, we suppose, was the cause.

—Our friend Mr. G. L. Crosby, was at the Capital last Friday, and we were glad to hear that his five paper, the Utica Monitor, is still on rising ground.

—We occasionally see and hear of fine trout and broom being caught in the lakes near Jackson, and sometimes of big hauls being made by good anglers.

—We are glad to see our young friends Messrs Orlando Green and P. McCain back in our city. It is to be hoped they will remain with us some time.

—The closing exercises of St. Margaret's School will take place to-morrow (Thursday) night at 8 1/2 P. M. An entertaining programme is prepared for the occasion.

—We are requested to announce that the colored Firemen of Jackson will entertain the colored Firemen of Natchez, in this city sometime during next month.

—The Natchez and Jackson Railroad has done itself a great benefit by securing the services of our townsman, Mr. J. A. Webb, as General freight and passenger agent.

—To-day and to-morrow will be big days at Clinton, when the College and Institute will have their closing exercises. Both schools are in a highly flourishing condition.

—The Moonlight Fete or Open Air Picnic at Mr. C. H. Manship's Friday night was a success. About $60 was realized for the new church. Let the good work go on.

—Press Convention at Columbus next Wednesday. The attendance promises to be large, upwards of two hundred invitations having been issued. All the Jackson papers will doubtless be represented.

—Some fruit is making its appearance on our streets, but as a general rule it is very small and in many cases insipid. We hope soon, however, to see an influx of ripe and luscious peaches, pears, apples, etc.

—The sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be observed at the Presbyterian church next Sunday morning. The usual preparatory sermon will be preached by the pastor in the lecture room next Friday night.

—The Protection Fire Co. No. 3 of Natchez left that city this morning at 5:30 and will arrive here about noon. They will be the guests of the Gem, and West Jackson Fire Co. will also entertain them. An enjoyable time is anticipated.

—The closing exercises at St. Peter's (Catholic) School will take place to-night. The price of admission is 25 cents. The programme is so varied and entertaining that all may feel sure of getting the full worth of their money, and coming away delighted.

—Mr. Chas. Williams, proprietor Pearl River Foundry and Agricultural Works is Agent for the Cotton Gins, Feeders, Condensers, Cotton Presses, Saw Mills and Oil Mills, manufactured by E. Van Winkle & Co., Atlanta, Ga. See advertisement in this issue.

—The advertisement of H. Dudley Coleman and Bro., New Orleans, is big enough to speak for itself. This firm does an immense and steadily increasing business. We call the special attention of all who want engines to the price-list in present announcement.

—Wirt Adams, Jr., Esq., of this city has sent out circulars advising parties that he will attend to the redemption of lands, examination of titles, and all matters appertaining thereto. We will guarantee prompt and efficient attention to business entrusted to him.

—A daring attempt was made by robbers on Friday night to steal a horse and buggy from Dr. Harrington. They had secured the harness, and were putting the horse and vehicle in readiness for use, when they were discovered. They made a precipitate retreat and escaped.

—We regret to chronicle the death of Mrs. E. Flanery which occurred at her residence in this city last night about 7 o'clock. Mrs. Flanery was about fifty years of age, a devoted wife and mother and kind friend. She leaves a husband and a large family of children, and many friends to mourn her loss.

—Mr. John H. Boyd, having completed his literary course at the Southwestern Presbyterian University, Clarksville, Tenn., will spend his vacation at home, preparatory to entering the Theological Seminary at Princeton, N. J., next session, where he will spend three years in studying for the ministry.

—Mrs. J. M. Jayne (nee Miss Lela Lowry) of Greenville, is visiting her father, the Governor, at the Executive Mansion, and is warmly welcomed by her numerous friends. By the way, we have observed that this accomplished lady has been appointed to recite a poem at the next meeting of the Alumnae of the Brandon Female College.

—Central Lodge, No. 764, Knights of Honor will celebrate the tenth Anniversary of the Order at their Hall next Saturday night, when Past Dictator C. A. Brounger will deliver an address, after which refreshments will be dispensed. Members of the Order are expected to take their families and invite their friends.

—J. W. Bailey, Esq., of the Copiah bar, was in the city yesterday. We are pleased to learn that having completed his course at the Lebanon law school and received his license, he has located at Hazlehurst for the practice of his profession. We like this Mississippi has use for all her sons and will prosper them if they will stand by her.

—Col. A. G. Myers, of the Pascagoula Democrat-Star, spent the latter part of Friday and Saturday in this city, receiving the greetings and congratulations of his numerous friends, and then proceeded on his way to the Press Convention, with the intention of taking in Brandon, Newton, Meridian and other places en route.

—The excursion to Natchez given by the Zion Friends Society, (col.) of Jackson will leave at an early hour Saturday morning next. Price for the round trip from Jackson $1.00. Preparations have been made for one of the largest excursions of the season, and no effort will be spared by the managers to make the trip enjoyable to all who may wish to attend.

—On Saturday and Sunday last two of the most terrific wind and rain storms that have ever been known here visited our city. We have heard of no damage to persons by the same, but a number of old tree limbs were blown down on the streets and sidewalks, which if they had fallen on any passers by would have occasioned serious if not fatal injuries. Old trees should be often topped.

—Mrs. Field (Catherine Cole) of the New Orleans Picayune spent Friday and Saturday at the Capital, making observations for the world-renowned paper she represents. She was the recipient of numerous courtesies, especially from the members of the press who took especial pleasure in visiting with her the public institutions and other places of interest at the Capital. Mrs. Field is a brilliant writer, and withal a faithful chronicler of what comes within the scope of her observations, and her letters add greatly to the interest of the Picayune. From Jackson she proceeded to Oxford to attend the Commencement at the State University; and will also be present at the Press Convention in Columbus. The gallant knights of the quill in our State will be glad to recognize her as an honorary member of their Association, entitled to a full share of its privileges and benefits.

—The New Government Building.

EDITORS CLARION: A petition is being circulated to have the government building above the foundation constructed of stone from Kentucky or somewhere else. The foundation is of brick; and the original plan is to have it constructed of pressed brick. It is as solid as stone and more fire-proof because it never crumbles. As to appearance nothing can be made more beautiful than brick ornamented with stone facings as every one knows who have examined the fine buildings in Baltimore, Philadelphia and other cities. Besides to construct with stone will be to deprive our home workmen of benefits to which they are entitled in preference to outsiders.

HOME INDUSTRY.

Rose Hill Institute.

The Commencement exercises of Rose Hill Institute will take place on Thursday and Friday of next week. Rev. Jam. A. Godfrey, will preach the Commencement Sermon on Sunday. Hon. H. D. Cameron will deliver the literary address on Friday. We acknowledge the courtesy of an invitation to be present.

THE REV. G. S. ROUDEBUSH, D. D., delivered the Commencement Sermon of the Lea Female College at Summit. A contemporary says "the sermon was well delivered, rich in thought, and listened to with wrapt attention by the vast concourse of citizens and visitors who filled the church on this interesting occasion."

Deaf and Dumb Institute.

The examination of pupils in the Deaf and Dumb Institute commenced on Tuesday last week and closed Thursday. The exercises showed an aptitude in learning, quick perception, intelligence and general proficiency among these unfortunate children, that was simply amazing. To the industry, energy and superior executive ability of the Principal, Prof. J. R. Dobyns, together with the efficient support of the Faculty, and the faithful supervision of the Trustees, is attributed the great success of this Institution.

A large number of intelligent and appreciative ladies and gentlemen assembled in the spacious chapel of the Institution at half past ten o'clock Thursday morning to witness the closing exercises. They were opened with prayer by Rev. Dr. Galloway, and as each word was uttered, was interpreted to the pupils by Prof. Dobyns in the sign language. Then followed the VIII Psalm, rendered by signs by Misses Rosa Thomas, Hattie Hoover, Ollie McKinney, Maggie Forest, Sallie Johnson and Lucy Aden. Prof. Dobyns then delivered an address replete with compliments to the pupils for their industry, studious habits and moral bearing during the session. He spoke also in terms of commendation of the efficient aid and moral support that had at all times been accorded him by his accomplished corps of teachers, and to the careful management of the business affairs by the Trustees. He took no credit to himself for the success of the Institution, but we believe that we voice the sentiment of the whole State, when we say that he is the greatest factor in the successful conduct of the school. He has ability and industry and is devoted to his work.

Miss Lucy Aden, Valedictorian, of Madison, county, received the first honor; Miss Mary Jones, of Montgomery county, the second, and Master Clifton Thompson, of Copiah, the third—to all of whom gold medals were awarded and were delivered in appropriate terms by the Principal in both voice and sign language.

Those standing in grade next to those who gained the prizes, were Miss Sallie Johnson, and Miss Hattie Hoover. Honorable mention was made of the following pupils: Miss Rosa Thomas, Miss Ida Hugheston, Andrew Horton, Miss Jennie Stewart, Master Hughes Coffman, Miss Miata Williams, Miss Anna Morse, Master John Seully, Miss Kate Massingill, Master Marcus Myer, Master John Duell, Miss Lizzie Bell, Master F. Cook, Mr. J. Chaney, Mr. C. Agnew, Miss Katie Moffat and Miss Ora Ashby.

Miss Lucy Aden then came forward and with peerless grace and dignity, her beautiful face beaming with intelligence, in signs, executed as quick as words can be uttered, delivered the beautiful, appropriate and chaste valedictory address, which was voiced by the Principal, simultaneously with her signs.

Miss McGan, the accomplished Instructor in "articulation," gave exhibitions with some members of her class, who do not remember to have ever heard a sound, giving satisfactory evidence of great proficiency and the success of this new method of teaching—actually "making the dumb speak."

There were facial exhibitions which were remarkable and interesting. Two young ladies would stand apart on the rostrum, and one would be furnished with a sentence written by some one in the audience, who, after reading it herself, would with folded hands and by facial expressions alone, communicate the sentence to the other. The latter, after receiving the sentence thus communicated, would write it on the blackboard. They also gave the letters of the alphabet by facial expression.

Hon. C. E. Hooker, Judge J. A. P. Campbell, Rev. Dr. Galloway, and Rev. Mr. Sproules, being called on, made short, but happy addresses to the pupils, which were interpreted to them by the Principal in sign language. Misses Rosa Thomas, Hattie Hoover and Ollie McKinney then rendered the Doxology in sign language. The Benediction was pronounced by Rev. Mr. Sproules. The whole proceeding was entertaining and creditable in the highest degree.

VALEDICTORY ADDRESS

Of Miss Lucy Aden, Deaf and Dumb Institute, at the Closing Exercises Last Week.

To the Gentlemen of the Board of Trustees:

With deep emotions of gratitude I address you as the guardians of our Institution. I can but faintly express the feelings that fill not only mine, but the hearts of all who have been the recipients of the favors and benefits secured by your wise management. And now, as the time has come for me to leave the Institution, I would that I could express to you the gratitude that thrills my heart at the recollection of what your efforts have done for me. Fortunate will it be for this Institution, if the wise management that has guided its affairs in the past, be continued in the coming years, and if under the blessing of a kind Father, it be enabled to accomplish all the noble desires of this generous Board. With sincere thanks for the inestimable benefits received at your hands, I must bid you, honored sirs, a respectful adieu!

Kind Principal: If these honored gentlemen have won our life-time gratitude for the kind and watchful care they have bestowed upon us, how shall I express the feelings of appreciation that we all feel, as I turn to you, who have so earnestly and faithfully presided over this Institution and made it a home indeed, during the three years of our administration. You must try to imagine what we feel. In addition to my gratitude for all your kindnesses, I would offer my heartfelt thanks for the mild discipline which has softened my stubborn nature, and for the kind counsel which has aided me to overcome some of the follies of childhood. And now, as I am about to bid a "good-bye" to you and to the Institution for the present, may I tenderly hope my faults and foibles, which were never prompted by the heart, may be obliterated; and that my name may find an enduring place in your memory. And now, regretfully do I bid you good-bye.

Dear Teachers:—To you, gentle guardians of my first school days, would I express my deep gratitude. It was your kind hand that led the thoughtless little girl to value the golden opportunities which lay open before her. You taught me that "life" was not meant to be passed in play, and that youth was its golden harvest day. In your mode of instruction, so peculiarly fitted to expand the youthful intellect, you led my tottering steps through the first years of school girl life. Loved teachers, I turn to you with peculiar feeling swelling my heart. I thank you not only for your counsel, kind and true, but also for the untiring energy you have displayed in your agreeable modes of imparting the knowledge with which your mind is stored. And often in the far off future, will my memory float backward, and thrill with pleasure at the gentle words and kind assistance with which you have ever been ready to encourage me to move onward in the rugged path of duty. To all of you, dear teachers, I would sincerely desire to tender my grateful acknowledgments and heartfelt thanks for the acts of kindness and indulgence bestowed upon me while under your care. Before closing, I feel that I owe some kindly expressions to our former principal, Mr. C. H. Talbot, for his earnest christian labors while with us. He not only retired from our Institution, but from the profession he so well adorned. In his retirement he bears with him our heartfelt appreciation of his worth and our best wishes for his prosperity and future happiness.

Dear Schoolmates:—You see the time has arrived for me to say "good-bye" to you, and, perhaps, to some of you my last "fare well." It has always been my earnest wish to render the time we have passed together both pleasant and profitable. If I have failed, attribute it to the head and not to the heart. With such pleasant thoughts, to you, honored Trustees, kind Principal, dear Teachers, loved Schoolmates, and kind Friends, I say, "Good-Bye."

STEDMAN & CO.

OUR SALES have run way ahead of our expectations and our hopes; and no wonder that we are busy—it would be strange if we were not. Our PRICES are RIGHT, which means LOW. It has been our aim to sell everything at as small PROFITS as we can possibly afford. Many lines have already been scaled down a little further.

How Do We Know Our Prices ARE RIGHT? From our customers. It is the only way to get at the truth that we know of.

HERE ARE SOME POINTS!

Hosiery from Auction—about 50 Dozen—in all the Late Shades—Solid, Pin Stripes, etc. Full and half regular goods. Goods in value from 35 to 50 cents, to be sold at the uniform price of 25 cents.

We give all such bargains to our customers, even when we know we are offering them fully 25 per cent. below the cost of those who buy in a regular way.

LADIES' COLLARS!

A large invoice just received in all the late styles. White, Black and Colored. The Cape, Turn-down and Sailor. Some very pretty styles in Lace goods. Look over our Front Show Cases.

In Ladies' Parasols!

We are offering some very decided bargains—bought late in the season at a Big Drive—is why we can offer our

$8.00 Parasols at.....$5 00
$5.00 " ".....3 00
28 inch, All Silk, Paragon frame Natural Stick, at $3.75.

Cannot be sold outside of our house for less than $5.00.

Bobbinet Bars!

We are just in receipt of our 6th invoice of the season in these Bars—they must be cheap or they would not sell as fast—$3.25 to $4.50 are our prices.

If you have not seen our "MONARCH" SHIRT, look at it. It is the best Shirt we ever sold for $1.00.

STEDMAN & CO.

FOR THE CLARION.

Seniors of St. Margaret's.

June, the pleasantest month in all the year, with its flowers, its fluttering fans, its sweet girl graduates, is with us again; but our joy is shadowed with regret, for to the sweet young ladies with whom we have so long been associated, we must say good-bye.

Good-bye every year brings a greater meaning, every parting a sadder significance to the word. To the other young ladies we say it with light hearts, knowing that the autumn may bring them back to us again; but to the Seniors, we turn sadly, knowing that never at the Hall of St. Margaret's, will we meet again. In the autumn of life, when the harvests are gathered in, may we all meet with arms full of golden sheaves never more to say that saddest of all sad words. My fondest hopes, my best wishes attend you.
